Seminar Leaders:

Diane Gossen

Author and Creator of the Restitution Philosophy

Diane has taught Control Theory for the past 20 years throughout Canada, the United States, Europe and Asia. She is the author of Restitution; Restructuring School Discipline, My Child is a Pleasure and is co-author with Judy Anderson of Creating the Conditions; Leadership for Quality Schools and most recently It's all About We.

Judy Anderson

Judy was a principal in the Richfield School District in Minnesota. She has been a featured speaker in Slovenia and Croatia, the Minnesota Principal Association and the North Dakota Principal's Association. She is the author of the mini-book The Social Contract and co-author of Creating the Conditions: Leadership for Quality Schools.

Ruth Hargrave

Consultant and Trainer

Ruth is a trainer in Restitution and Control Theory. She is presently consulting and mentoring with staff at schools in the St. James-Assiniboia School Division and teaching workshops. She has had the pleasure of sharing Restitution training in Asia, Europe, North and South America, as well as across Canada.

Joel Shimoji

Vice-Principal, J.H. Bruns Collegiate, Louis Riel School Division

Teaching since 1986, Joel has found Restitution to be the greatest benefit to students and staff as a high school math teacher and as an administrator. Nothing else comes close. He has had extensive experience leading Restitution workshops in Canada, the United States, India and Iceland. He is the author of The Restitution Field Guide.

Rebecca Gray

Counsellor, Assiniboine College

Rebecca has been a social worker, an educator, a foster parent and a human being that has found Restitution to be the path to helping people, resolving conflicts and finding internal peace. She has taught Restitution and Control Theory throughout Manitoba.

Joan Mayhew

Evergreen School Division

For the last 5 years Joan has worked with the Evergreen School Division staff in the areas of behaviour and attendance support, Restitution and resiliency with a focus on strength based practices and "thinking outside of the box." Being in classes with students from kindergarten to grade 12, sharing and collaborating with teachers on their restitution journey has been a fun, rewarding and a very hands on experience.

Seminars:

Restitution I - Intro to Restitution Self Discipline

Monday and Tuesday, August 14 and 15, 2017

Presenter: Joel Shimoji

*No prerequisite

Restitution is a philosophy created by Diane Gossen, based on the work of William Glasser's Control Theory and the principles of Aboriginal Restorative Justice. It provides those working with children hands-on skills to deal with difficult behaviour. Instead of rewards and punishment Restitution focuses on helping students become the person they want to be. Drawing from current research on brain functioning, Restitution recognizes that for true learning to occur, the process that children must engage in is an internal one. Restitution teaches youth self-discipline and skills needed to promote independence, critical thinking and acceptance of personal responsibility for one's actions.

Complimentary book included*

Restitution II - Implementing Restitution

Monday and Tuesday, August 14 and 15, 2017

Presenter: Ruth Hargrave

*Prerequisite: Restitution 1

This workshop is for participants who are currently experimenting with ideas of Restitution in their personal lives and at the classroom level. This course is designed to assist teachers and administrators to assess their current practices within their schools and to ask themselves, "Is what we are doing now getting us what we want?" This course will outline the ways in which Restitution can impact on the system by using school beliefs. Join us to deepen your understanding of Restitution practices.

Complimentary book included*

Restitution IIIB - Restitution Resources and Lessons

Wednesday, August 16, 2017

Presenter: Joan Mayhew

*Prerequisite: Restitution 1

A one day practical make and take workshop on how to teach students the philosophy of Restitution and Control Theory. Learn to teach students about the basic needs, how the brain works, quality world, behaviour car, creating a social contract and much more.

Song book, board games and lesson books included*

Control Theory I - Basics

Monday and Tuesday, August 14 and 15, 2017

Presenter: Rebecca Gray

*No prerequisite

Restitution is based on the principles of Control Theory. This course is a must for those of you who want to deepen your understanding of Restitution. Control Theory I is intended to be an introductory class for those with little or no exposure to Control Theory. Learn how to tap into intrinsic motivation, which is a key component in creating 21st Century thinkers. Learn practical strategies to use in your personal and professional life.

Complimentary book included*

Facilitator Training I and II*

Wednesday and Thursday, August 16 and 17, 2017

Presenters: Diane Gossen and Judy Anderson

*Prerequisite: Restitution 1 and 2 and Control Theory I

This is an amazing opportunity for leaders in education who have taken Restitution and Control Theory I and are presently practitioners of the Restitution and Control Theory concepts in their educational setting. Please see special insert for details of requirements, benefits and course content. We know you will benefit greatly from our two senior founders of Restitution as well as acquire valuable personal growth.

Complimentary book included*

"Restitution has made the children feel much better about themselves. They have become problem solvers. They are coming up with solutions on their own."

- Lisa Vetrano, School Counselor, N.C.
